2006 Chancellors

Three appearances in the CIF Los Angeles City Section title game at Dodger Stadium would be a great accomplishment for any baseball program, but to do it three consecutive years, as Chatsworth did from 2003 to 2005, is an unmatched achievement. Now the Chancellors aim to make it four in a row and six in eight years.

The 2003 and 2004 national champions open another season with high expectations, buoyed by a fine 29-4 record in 2005 — which was supposed to be a rebuilding year — and the school's 24th West Valley League championship. But as they say about top programs, at Chatsworth they don't rebuild, they reload.

Here's how the Chancellors shape up in their quest for another trip to Chavez Ravine.

PITCHERS

Senior right-hander Josh Ravin, who had an impressive summer in the showcase circuit, heads a staff that again must find a replacement for its top winner from the previous season.

In eight starts in 2005, Ravin had a 4-2 record and a 2.50 earned-run average and opponents batted only .218 against him, best on the staff among pitchers with 30 innings or more of work.

Senior right-hander Daniel Simmons, who had a 6-3 record and a 2.09 ERA on the junior varsity in 2005, should be in the mix for the No. 2 starting spot. Simmons (6 feet 5) and Ravin (6 feet 4) could be the two tallest starters on the same team in the Southland.

CATCHERS

For the third consecutive season, the Chancellors have a new catcher, with senior Kyle Barbato and freshman Carlos Escobar vying for the starting job.

Barbato, a left-handed hitter, had limited playing time last season at first base. Escobar, a right-handed hitter, displayed a strong arm during the fall-winter season.

INFIELDERS

Experience and continuity always are key ingredients on a baseball team, and the Chancellors have both of those ingredients with three of their infielders: senior second baseman Oscar Gutierrez, shortstop Moustakas and third baseman Dominguez.

The left-handed-hitting Moustakas, the state sophomore player of the year in 2005 after batting .482 with a team-record 12 home runs, returns for his third season at shortstop. He made only one error last year.

For the third year in a row, the hot corner is in the care of Dominguez, who is coming off a 10-homer season to give him 18 all-time and a tie for second place on the school list.

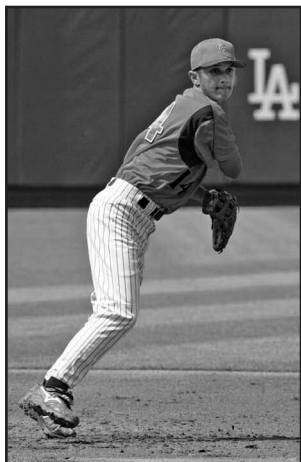

Mike Moustakas

Oscar Gutierrez

At second base, the Chancellors have the sure-handed Gutierrez, who contributed last season on a part-time basis but who developed into a serious offensive threat over the fall-winter season, batting over .400.

Hard-hitting sophomore first baseman James Wharton is making the jump from the frosh-soph team after a solid fall-winter season. Freshman Andy Weissberg, who also plays outfield, shared playing time with Wharton during the fall-winter season.

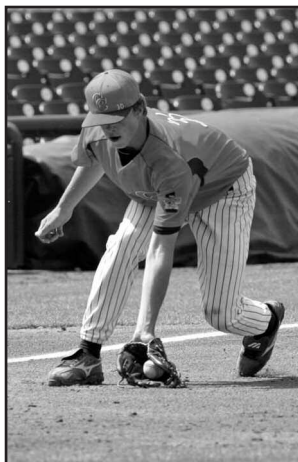

Sophomore Matt Moreno, who led the JV in batting last season as a shortstop, moves to third base and freshman Kasey Toven brings switch-hitting skills and a slick glove to the middle of the infield.

OUTFIELDERS

Adding depth to the outfield are junior Phil McManama, who can play the corner spots, and seniors Jeff Redmond and Nick Dillon. All have been promoted from the JV, where they were among the top hitters. Weissberg joins the group.

Matt Dominguez

OUTLOOK

With few seniors on the squad, Coach Tom Meusborn is looking to the excellent core of underclassmen to carry a good portion of the load

"A big key for us is our ability to throw strikes," Meusborn said. "We have four returning pitchers and two pitchers moving up from junior varsity. Our pitchers need to put us in a position to win games. We have the quality pitchers to get the job done."

The infield is as solid as any ever put on the field by the Chancellors, and Meusborn was pleased with the way the unit played during the fall-winter season.

Oliver Padre

Nick Devian

"Our strength over the years is our defense," he said. "The guys have worked hard in the fall to improve their skills. I like our defense make-up."

On offense, the Chancellors have bulked up through an intensive weight training and conditioning program and it has shown on the field.

"I am excited about our offense," Meusborn said. "The players have worked extremely hard in the weight room. We have gotten bigger, faster, and stronger. We have power from both sides of the plate. I feel our offense will be ready for the challenges of a strong schedule. We understand what our offense needs to do to be successful."

Los Angeles City Section Champions National Champions

Used to be that a Los Angeles City Section championship game at Dodger Stadium was significant enough for the Chancellors. But the last two have added a whole new dimension.

For the second consecutive season, the Chancellors went into the game with a chance to claim the national title. And for the second time in a row, they responded.

Senior right-hander Jason Dominguez, in perhaps the finest start of his four-year career, limited the San Pedro Pirates to five hits and an unearned run in the seventh inning to lead the Chancellors, 7-1, in front of about 3,500 and help cap the first perfect season in school history.

The victory earned the Chancellors (35-0) the national title by USA Today, Baseball America and StudentSports, and their second City Section title in a row and sixth overall. Chatsworth had been declared national champion in 2003 by USA Today, Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball.

This time, the long-haired Chancellors, who had made a team pact at the beginning of the season not to cut their hair until they lost a game, had to deal with the added pressure of an undefeated season. Only Monroe, which finished 19-0 in 1971, had won a City Section title without losing a game. The top-seeded Chancellors had nearly doubled that victory total and were riding a state-record 49-game winning streak going into the game against the No. 2-seeded Pirates.

The Pepperdine-bound Dominguez (13-0) and an opportunistic offense made sure that San Pedro didn't halt the marvelous streak. Dominguez, who ran his career record to a school-best 35-1, stranded runners at second and third base in the first inning and cruised until tiring in the seventh, when the Pirates (31-4) scored on a throwing error with two outs.

Dominguez, who won three of the four playoff games and saved the Chancellors' come-from-behind 10-7 victory over Kennedy in the semifinals — a game in which they trailed, 7-0, in the third inning — was selected the most valuable player of the championship game.

Chatsworth took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning when junior first baseman Tom Cassidy's two-out single to center field drove in senior second baseman Willie Cabrera from third base. The Chancellors padded the lead to 5-0 with a four-run outburst in the second that included run-scoring singles by junior center fielder Mitul Patel and freshman third baseman Matt Dominguez. It was Dominguez's 65th run batted in, a state record for a freshman.

The Chancellors went ahead, 7-0, on a two-run single by Cabrera in the sixth inning that extended his state-record season total to 72. Cabrera was selected the most valuable player of the playoffs after producing 10 hits in 14 at-bats against Narbonne, Sylmar, Kennedy and San Pedro.

San Pedro loaded the bases after scoring with two outs in the seventh inning, but Dominguez retired Steve Carrillo on a grounder to freshman shortstop Mike Moustakas to end the game and secure the Chancellors' second consecutive national championship.

It also meant that the Chancellors, including the coaching staff, could finally visit a barber.

Los Angeles City Section Champions National Champions

Much more than a City Section title was at stake for the Chancellors when they faced the Carson Colts on a cool night at Dodger Stadium. The Chancellors went into the game ranked No. 1 in the nation and only a victory would guarantee their first national championship. They stood up to the challenge. Behind a marvelous performance by right-hander Justin Cassel and a huge home run by left fielder Bryan Petersen, the Chancellors defeated the Colts, 3-0, in front of about 4,000.

It was Chatsworth's third City Section title in five years and fifth overall. And when the final polls were announced a few days later, the Chancellors were declared national champions by USA Today, Baseball America magazine and Collegiate Baseball magazine. They were the first California team to be voted No. 1 in the nation by Baseball America in 11 years.

Cassel (15-0), a UC Irvine-bound senior who dominated all season, saved his best for the biggest stage yet. He took a no-hitter into the seventh inning before settling for his fourth one-hitter and eighth shutout of the year. As expected, he was selected the City Section most valuable player.

The Chancellors (33-1) reached the final riding a 14-game winning streak, including shutouts in two of the three playoff games: Fremont, 12-0; Kennedy, 2-0, and Banning, 4-3. Carson, which had lost to Chatsworth, 5-4, in a nonleague game at Carson in March, represented the last obstacle on the championship road.

Chatsworth wasted no time getting on the scoreboard. Senior leadoff batter and right fielder Keith Renno reached on an error and scored on senior catcher Jordan Sisson's single through the middle for a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning.

Cassel then went to work and made the run stand inning after inning with a hard fastball and sharp curve ball that produced nine strikeouts. The first-inning run would have been sufficient to win the game, but Petersen came up with a virtual clincher in the sixth inning.

With senior pitcher Ross Liddell pinch-running at second base for junior outfielder Kevin Lee, who had walked as a pinch-hitter, Petersen turned on a 0-and-1 offering from right-hander Luis Magadan and blasted a 375-homer to right-center field to put the Chancellors ahead, 3-0. It was only the 15th homer in a City Section final since the title game started being played at Dodger Stadium in 1969.

A few minutes later, after senior second baseman Nimish Patel had fielded a grounder and fed senior shortstop Brett Munster for a game-ending force out at second base, the Chancellors were celebrating like they had never before—with another City Section title and their first national championship.

Los Angeles City Section Division 4-A Champions

After jumping to a six-run lead through three innings, the Chancellors survived a furious rally by the Sylmar Spartans to win, 8-7, in front of about 6,000 at Dodger Stadium.

Chancellor pitcher Keith Nicholson (8-2) got the offense rolling with a two-run double in the first inning. Errors in the first and third innings allowed Chatsworth to score another four runs against Dana Ridenour (11-4), who had given up only seven hits in three previous playoff games. The Chancellors had six hits against Ridenour in the first three innings.

Sylmar chased Nicholson in the fifth inning and pulled within 8-6. Coach Bob Lofrano summoned reliever Steve Reed, who retired the first six batters he faced.

The Spartans rallied in the top of the seventh. With two out, Ridenour doubled and scored on Larry Sanchez's single. But Reed got Mike Hirsch to pop out to first baseman Steve Landy to preserve the victory. Reed, later a major league pitcher, was selected the game's most valuable player.

Los Angeles City Section Division 4-A Champions

The Chancellors rallied under first-year Coach Tom Meusborn for two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to defeat favored El Camino Real, 3-2, at Dodger Stadium.

Chatsworth had been shut out by Pat Treend (12-1) through five innings before getting to the right-hander in the sixth. After three consecutive walks with one out, Adam Pearlman singled to center field to drive in one run.

Tommy Lee was waived in from second base but was thrown out at the plate for the second out. The Chancellors had to settle for one run and trailed, 2-1.

In the seventh, Treend walked Rodney Bloom to open the inning. Nestor Martinez bunted but Treend threw late to second base and both runners were safe. Mike Mancuso bunted but second baseman Herman Merchan dropped Treend's throw at first base. Bloom scored on the play to tie the score, 2-2, and Martinez moved to third. Mancuso moved to second on pitcher's indifference when Treend held the ball as Mancuso strolled to second.

After catching Mitch Root's liner, Treend intentionally walked Reed McMackin, who was selected the game's most valuable player, to load the bases. Lee laid down a suicide squeeze to score Martinez with the winning run.

A crowd of about 4,000 watched on a rainy night at Dodger Stadium as the top-seeded Chancellors broke open a close contest to beat Poly, 17-7, in a game called after six innings because of the 10-run rule.

Charles Kenny, the No. 9 hitter in the lineup, ended a 6-6 tie in the fifth with a three-run triple. Kenny finished with three hits and six runs batted in. The Chancellors had 17 hits, including three by Matt Cassel, and set a record for most runs scored in the 30-year history of the City Final at Dodger Stadium.

Left-hander Mike Kunes (13-1), the City Section player of the year, struck out 10 to finish his two-year Chatsworth varsity career with a 25-3 record.

Top-seeded and favored, the Chancellors won their second title in three years by defeating a tough Roosevelt team, 2-1, in front of 3,536 at Dodger Stadium.

Left-hander Joe Guntz (14-0) struck out 10 and gave up four hits in a duel with hard-throwing right-hander Joram Iboa (8-3). Guntz worked out of trouble in the top of the seventh after two Roosevelt runners reached base with two out. He struck out Francisco Figueroa on a called third strike to end the game.

The Chancellors, who finished 31-2, a school season record, took a 1-0 lead on a two-out single to right field by Jared Halpert that scored George Spadier from second base in the first inning.

In the fourth inning, pinch-hitter Jon Selman's single to right field drove in Jason Dominguez from second base for a 2-0 lead.

Roosevelt ended Guntz's playoff scoreless streak at 18-2/3 innings when Iboa hit a run-scoring single in the fifth.
